Duty Administrative Review: Narrow Woven Ribbons with

Woven Selvedge from Taiwan

SUMMARY

The Department of Commerce (the Department) is conducting an administrative review of the antidumping duty order on narrow woven ribbons with woven selvedge (narrow woven ribbons) from Taiwan. The review covers two exporters of the subject merchandise, Intercontinental Skyline and Pacific Imports. The period of review (POR) is September 1, 2011, through August 31, 2012. We have preliminarily assigned these companies an antidumping duty margin based on adverse facts available (AFA) because of their failure to act to the best of their abilities in complying with the Department's request for information in this review.

BACKGROUND

In September 2010, the Department published in the Federal Register an antidumping duty order on narrow woven ribbons from Taiwan.¹ On September 4, 2012, the Department published in the Federal Register a notice of opportunity to request an administrative review of the antidumping duty order on narrow woven ribbons from Taiwan for the period September 1, 2011, through August 31, 2012.² Pursuant to section 751(a)(1) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act), and 19 CFR 351.213(b)(1), Berwick Offray LLC and its wholly-owned subsidiary Lion Ribbon Company, Inc., (the petitioner) requested an administrative review of the antidumping duty order on narrow woven ribbons from Taiwan with respect to the following eight companies: 1) Apex Ribbon; 2) Apex Trimmings Inc. d/b/a Papillon Ribbon & Bow (Canada) (Apex Trimmings); 3) Hubschercorp; 4) Intercontinental Skyline; 5) Multicolor Inc. (Multicolor); 6) Pacific Imports; 7) Supreme Laces, Inc.; and 8) Shienq Huong Enterprise Co., Ltd. / Hsien Chan Enterprise Co., Ltd. / Novelty Handicrafts Co., Ltd. (Shienq Huong). On October 31, 2012, in accordance with 19 CFR 351.221(c)(1)(i), we published a notice of initiation of administrative review of the antidumping duty order on narrow woven ribbons from Taiwan.³

On November 19, 2012, we requested that each company named in the Initiation Notice provide data on the quantity and value (Q&V) of its exports of subject merchandise to the United States during the POR. We received responses to the Q&V questionnaires during the period November 2012 through December 2012. We did not receive a response to the Q&V questionnaire from either Intercontinental Skyline or Pacific Imports. On January 24, 2013, we confirmed that all companies received the Q&V questionnaire.⁴

On January 29, 2013, the petitioner withdrew its request for an administrative review for all companies named in the Initiation Notice except Intercontinental Skyline and Pacific Imports. Accordingly, on March 8, 2013, we rescinded the review with respect to the following companies: 1) Apex Ribbon; 2) Apex Trimmings; 3) Hubschercorp; 4) Multicolor; 5) Shienq Huong; and 6) Supreme Laces Inc.⁵

Since Intercontinental Skyline and Pacific Imports did not respond to the Q&V questionnaire, in accordance with sections 776(a)(2)(A), (B) and (C) of the Act, for these preliminary results, the Department has applied facts otherwise available with an adverse inference pursuant to section 776(b) of the Act when determining Intercontinental Skyline's and Pacific Imports' rate. See the "Discussion of the Methodology" section, below, for further discussion.

SCOPE OF THE ORDER

The scope of this order covers narrow woven ribbons with woven selvedge, in any length, but with a width (measured at the narrowest span of the ribbon) less than or equal to 12 centimeters, composed of, in whole or in part, man-made fibers (whether artificial or synthetic, including but not limited to nylon, polyester, rayon, polypropylene, and polyethylene teraphthalate), metal threads and/or metalized yarns, or any combination thereof. Narrow woven ribbons subject to the order may:

The HTSUS statistical categories and subheadings are provided for convenience and customs purposes; however, the written description of the merchandise covered by this order is dispositive.

DISCUSSION OF THE METHODOLOGY

Application of Facts Available

Section 776(a) of the Act provides that the Department shall apply "facts otherwise available" if: (1) necessary information is not available on the record; or (2) an interested party or any other person (A) withholds information that has been requested, (B) fails to provide such information by the deadlines established, or in the form and manner requested by the Department, subject to subsections (c)(1) and (e) of section 782 of the Act, (C) significantly impedes a proceeding, or (D) provides such information but the information cannot be verified as provided by section 782(i) of the Act.

As noted in the "Background" section, above, Intercontinental Skyline and Pacific Imports did not respond to the Department's Q&V questionnaire. As a result, neither Intercontinental Skyline nor Pacific Imports provided the requested information necessary for the Department to calculate antidumping duty rates for it in this review. See section 776(a)(1) of the Act. Moreover, neither company responded despite our having evidence on the record that the companies received the questionnaires. Therefore, pursuant to section 776(a) of the Act, the Department has based Intercontinental Skyline's and Pacific Imports' antidumping duty rates in these preliminary results on facts otherwise available.

Application of AFA

Section 776(b) of the Act provides that, if the Department finds an interested party has failed to cooperate by not acting to the best of its ability to comply with requests for information, the Department may use an inference that is adverse to the interests of that party in selecting from the facts otherwise available.⁷ Adverse inferences are appropriate "to ensure that the party does not obtain a more favorable result by failing to cooperate than if it had cooperated fully."

⁷ See, e.g., Notice of Final Results of Antidumping Duty Administrative Review, and Final Determination to Revoke the Order In Part: Individually Quick Frozen Red Raspberries from Chile, 72 FR 70295, 70297 (Dec. 11, 2007).

⁸ See Statement of Administrative Action accompanying the Uruguay Round Agreements Act, H.R. Doc.

Furthermore, "affirmative evidence of bad faith on the part of a respondent is not required before the Department may make an adverse inference." We preliminarily find that Intercontinental Skyline and Pacific Imports did not act to the best of their abilities in this administrative review, within the meaning of section 776(b) of the Act, because they failed to respond to the Department's request for information and provide timely information. Therefore, an adverse inference is warranted in selecting from the facts otherwise available with respect to these companies. See Nippon, 337 F.3d at 1382-83.

Selection of AFA Rate

In deciding what rate to apply as AFA, section 776(b) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.308(c)(1) authorize the Department to rely on information derived from: (1) the petition; (2) a final determination in the investigation; (3) any previous review or determination; or (4) any other information placed on the record.

The Department's practice, when selecting an AFA rate from among the possible sources of information, has been to select the highest rate on the record of the proceeding and to ensure that the margin is sufficiently adverse "as to effectuate the statutory purposes of the adverse facts available rule to induce respondents to provide the Department with complete and accurate information in a timely manner." Specifically, the Department's practice in reviews, when selecting a rate as total AFA, is to use the highest rate on the record of the proceeding which, to the extent practicable, can be corroborated. The Court of International Trade and the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (the CAFC) have affirmed decisions to select the highest margin from any prior segment of the proceeding as the AFA rate on numerous occasions. 12

In this proceeding, the highest rate is the petition rate of 137.20. In the first administrative review, we assigned this rate as AFA to a similarly uncooperative Canadian reseller of subject merchandise, Hubschercorp.¹³ Thus, it is reasonable to assume that Hubschercorp's dumping reflects the commercial reality of other Canadian resellers, and to apply as AFA the same AFA rate assigned to Hubschercorp in the previous review. Therefore, we are preliminarily assigning to Intercontinental Skyline and Pacific Imports an AFA rate of 137.20 percent, which is the petition rate that was previously assigned as AFA in the first administrative review to Hubschercorp, and is the highest margin on the record of this proceeding that can be corroborated.

Corroboration of Secondary Information

Section 776(c) of the Act provides that, when the Department relies on secondary information rather than on information obtained in the course of an investigation or review, it shall, to the extent practicable, corroborate that information from independent sources that are reasonably at its disposal. Secondary information is defined as information derived from the petition that gave rise to the investigation or review, the final determination concerning the subject merchandise, or any previous review under section 751 of the Act concerning the subject merchandise. ¹⁴ To corroborate means that the Department will satisfy itself that the secondary information to be used has probative value. ¹⁵ To corroborate secondary information, the Department will, to the extent practicable, examine the reliability and relevance of the information to be used. ¹⁶

It is difficult for the Department to corrobrate the AFA rate in this administrative review because no exporters have cooperated in this review and, as a result, there is no information on the record. Independent sources used to corroborate such evidence may include, for example, published price lists, official import statistics and customs data, and information obtained from interested parties during the particular investigation. ¹⁷ In this case, the AFA rate being assigned to Intercontinental Skyline and Pacific Imports (i.e., 137.20 percent) is the petition rate from the less-than-fair-value investigation, is the highest rate on the record of the proceeding, and was assigned as the AFA rate to Hubschercorp in the first administrative review. ^{18, 19} Furthermore, this rate was corroborated to the extent practicable in the previous administrative review.²⁰ Since no information has been presented in the current review that calls into question the reliability of this information, we therefore find that the information continues to be reliable, to the extent practicable.

With respect to the relevance aspect of corroboration, the Department will consider information reasonably at its disposal to determine whether a rate continues to have relevance. Where circumstances indicate that the selected margin is not appropriate as AFA, the Department will disregard the margin and determine an appropriate margin. For example, in Fresh Cut Flowers From Mexico, ²¹ the Department disregarded the highest margin in that case as adverse best information available (the predecessor to "facts available") because the margin was based on another company's uncharacteristic business expense resulting in an unusually high margin. Similarly, the Department does not apply a margin that has been judicially invalidated. ²² Because the respondents' rate was assigned as AFA to Hubschercorp, another Canadian reseller of subject merchandise, and there is no information on the record of this review that demonstrates that this rate is not appropriate for use as AFA, we determine that this rate continues to be relevant, to the extent practicable.

As the 137.20 percent rate is both reliable and relevant, we determine that it has probative value, and thus, it has been corroborated to the extent practicable pursuant to section 776(c) of the Act. Also, we find that the 137.20 percent margin is sufficiently adverse to ensure that Intercontinental Skyline and Pacific Imports do not benefit from failing to cooperate to the best of their ability in our review by refusing to respond to the Department's request for information. Thus, we have assigned this AFA rate to exports of the subject merchandise from Intercontinental Skyline and Pacific Imports.
